Photography: The organisers reserve the right to photograph and reproduce selected work in the newsletter, website or Facebook page. This is only for publicity purposes relating to the exhibition.

Selection: The organisers reserve the right to select entries. Non-compliance of conditions will result in rejection of work. Although we are looking for participation in the exhibition for help, we accept that there will be some who don't live in the Selwyn or Chch districts. Please make sure you have contacted us with your expression of interest before the 28th February. Please note our exhibition attracts people looking to buy 'mountain and native flora & fauna' themes - so if you are in doubt about the suitability of your work in our exhibition please contact us first by email - we don't want to waste anyone's time. The decision of the Castle Hill Creative group is final.
